THE STRIKE IN BOSTON IS BECOMING

COAL FAMINE AT HAND, THOUSANDS ARE IDLE.

FREIGHT PILED HIGH ON DOCKS.

And Factories Shutting Down—Food Scarce and Price Rising—Strike at Norfolk Unchanged.

Boston, March 13.—Representative union men say that by Saturday night 75,000 to 80,000 men will be out unless a basis of settlement of the strike is found in the meantime. Secretary Asley of the civic federation, will meet representative strikers, Governor Crane and members of the various businesses affected today.

Freight is piling up on the docks and in railroad yards, warehouses and stores. Vessels are leaving port short of cargo, others are waiting for coal. Factories are beginning to shut down for the want of raw materials. Building operations are suspended. The situation with families, hotels, restaurants and all consumers of coal is critical and unless the strikers allow the delivery of disastorous results may follow. Manufacturers all over the district are affected and are preparing to close down. Groceries and provisions are becoming scarce and prices are being advanced.

STREET CAR STRIKE.

Norfolk, Va., March 13.—More disorder having arisen in the street car strike the mayor announced that no more state troops would be withdrawn and that the militia will be held until the trouble ceases. This means the military will remain indefinitely. There seems no prospect of an early settlement. Stone throwing and efforts to derail cars continued this morning.

DOCKERS' STRIKE.

Rochelle, France, March 13.—The Dockers here, 700 in number, have struck for a $1 daily wage. This morning they attempted to wreck the property of the Pacific Steam Navigation Co., but after a struggle were driven off by gendarmes. Ships in the docks here are unable to discharge their cargo because of the strike.

ANTHRACITE WAGE SCALE.

Philadelphia, March 13.—The statement is made this morning that the anthracite coal operators have decided to continue the present wage scale for another year. No change will be made in existing conditions. The union will not be recognized. This will be acted upon at a meeting of district unions in Shamokin Tuesday. Thus the concessions won by the mine workers in the big strike of 1900 will remain in force until April 1, 1903.

SERVICES

WITTE'S CHARGES.

Washington, March 13.—Emil Witte, formerly connected with the German embassy here admitted today having filed the charges against Ambassador Von Holleben. They are deemed unworthy of investigation and no action will be taken.

Emil Witte, who has filed charges against Dr. Von Holleben, the German Ambassador in an interview today admitted that his charges were made because he feels that he was not treated right by Von Holleben.

He alleged that through Von Holleben Germany had spies in this country and plans of the U. S. naval defenses.

Texas Storms.

Fort Worth, Texas, March 13.—Severe storms have prevailed generally in north and central Texas for the past two or three days. Half a dozen people have been killed and the property loss will probably reach $250,000. Desola was nearly wiped off the face of the earth and many people were seriously injured. Relief for the sufferers has been asked for from outside sources.

Clowrey Chosen.

Chicago, March 13.—Col. R. C. Clowrey, who was elected president of the Western Union Telegraph company yesterday, will remove to New York before May 1 and make that city his permanent home. The name of his successor as general superintendent will be made public within a few days.

Ministry Resigns.

Madrid, March 13.—The resignation of the Spanish ministry was handed to the Queen Regent today.

ARTHUR P. GORMAN

AS EVER THE MARYLAND SENATOR IS A LEADER.

Once More Prominent on Floor of the Senate—May Become Chairman Congressional Committee.

Washington, March 13.—Arthur Pue Gorman of Maryland, who will again take his seat in the Senate next March as the successor of George L. Wellington, is almost daily on the floor of the Senate, chamber, consulting with the Democratic senators. He is the same cool-headed, suave, resourceful Gorman of old, and the opinion is general on both sides of the Senate that when he is sworn in he will step immediately into his former place as leader of the Democratic party in Congress. Indeed his present activity leads to the belief that he has by general consent anticipated the date of his swearing in.

There is a movement on foot to elect Mr. Gorman chairman of the Democratic congressional campaign committee, and he now has the proposition under consideration. While Mr. Gorman is not now a member of Congress he could be selected as a member of the committee from Maryland by reason that the State has no Democratic representative in either the House or Senate.

A DEMOCRATIC PROGRAM.

Washington, March 13.—The Democrats desire to elect a majority and secure control of the next house of representatives. In furtherance of this they propose:

1. To ignore W. J. Bryan.
2. To abandon the silver issue.
3. To appeal to the country on the tariff question and on the conduct of affairs in the Philippines.
4. To confine their campaign to the congressional districts in the northern States, trusting to hold the south.

To carry out this program the Democrats are now looking for a leader to manage their campaign. A meeting of the congressional committee will be discussed. Several names have been canvassed but the one which meets with the most favor is that of Senator Gorman of Maryland. Senator Dubois, who left the Republican party when it declared in convention at St. Louis for the single gold standard, is credited with having first suggested Mr. Gorman, and a committee headed by ex-Senator Faulker of West Virginia, has called on the Marylander to induce him to accept. Mr. Gorman has not given a definite response, although it is certain that he will be appointed to represent Maryland on the congressional committee. If he will accept the chairmanship he will undoubtedly be elected.

The movement to make Mr. Gorman the leader in the coming fight is said to have originated with Senators from the silver States.

Mail Stolen.

Chicago, March 13.—A pouch of registered mail, believed to aggregate several thousand dollars, was stolen from the mail wagon in front of the Marconi Temple last night, while crowds were hurrying past to witness a big down town fire.

MAYOR

SAYS MUST HAVE REFEREE THE NEXT TIME

WIFE CAUSES ARREST OF HER HUSBAND.

"WE JUST HAD THE GLOVES ON"

Said the Husband, "And Now I want to Say My Wife Can Lick Me Any Day."

Akron, O., March 13.—Mrs. Clarence Hawkins had her husband arrested last night on a charge of assault and battery. The case was heard in police court this morning. Hawkins testified that the trouble occurred at his home and was due to a boxing contest between him and his wife.

"We had the gloves on," he said, "and I now want to say that my wife can lick me any day in the week." Mayor Doyle declared the fight a draw and dismissed the case with the understanding that hereafter when Hawkins and his wife engaged in a fight they are to have a referee.

SUGAR TRUST

HAS OPENLY ENTERED THE CUBAN RECIPROCITY FIGHT.

Great Effort to Get Together on the Cuban Program is Now Being Made.

Washington, March 13.—The American Sugar Refining Company commonly called the Sugar Trust, has come openly into the fight about Cuban reciprocity. A literary bureau began putting out articles for the benefit of the correspondents, showing that the trust would receive no benefit; that the beet sugar industry would not be damaged, and finally that a 20 per cent reduction on raw sugar would not be an attack on the protection principle.

In addition the trust bureau began sending out cartoons to show the horrible things the Cubans are supposed to be suffering because they are not able to send their raw sugar into this country.

The activity of the trust's agents is embarrassing Speaker Henderson and the members who are trying to get the Ways and Means program adopted. A most peculiar state of affairs existed yesterday in the fight. Both sides claimed a victory in Tuesday's conference. The Speaker and his followers claimed it because they were able to get an adjournment for a week.

The anti-reduction men said that enough of their men voted for the Speaker's motion to adjourn for a week to have adopted the opposition resolution. In answer to the contention of the Speaker's party the beet sugar leaders asked why, if the Speaker had a majority, did he plead for a chance to be heard.

"Let's get together," has been the slogan of Speaker Henderson. He sent for several members to talk the matter over with them and harmony was the gist of his talk. But the Speaker offered no harmony plan.

AGREEMENT IN CUBAN MATTER.

Washington, March 13.—There are indications that the Republicans of the House will compromise on Cuban reciprocity, the basis being a 20 per cent reduction to continue for two years. Leaders on both sides have been conferring with a view to reaching an agreement on these lines.

DARING

Hold Up of an Operator—Safe Then Blown and $40 Was Then Stolen.

Southampton, Conn., March 13.—A daring hold up and robbery took place at the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad station here at 3 o'clock this morning, when four men tied the telegraph operator, blew open the safe and secured $40 in money.

Bank Robbed.

Joliet, Ill., March 13.—The Knapp Exchange Bank at Minooka, nine miles southwest of Joliet, was burglarized by six men early this morning. They secured about $3,300. For over an hour they terrorized the town. Twice a body of citizens, aroused by the explosion, attempted to rout the robbers, but upon each occasion they were driven to their homes at pistol points.

Big Silver Strike.

Reno, Nev., March 13.—A sensational silver strike has been made in the Wedekind mine near Reno. A new ledge five feet in width assaying $3300 to the ton, was uncovered yesterday. The mine is the property of John Sharks the cattle king.

PIKE HACK LINE.

Jacksontown, O., March 13.—John Harter of Newark has bought the hack line connecting this place and Zanesville and will bring his family here April 1.

PAPA

AND GOT AWAY WITH THE GIRL.

Pretty Dora Smith Aged Sixteen, Either is or is About to be Chide's Bride.

Middlesboro, Ky., March 13.—At Johnson, Tenn., Will Chide, 30 years old, attempted to elope with pretty Dora Smith, aged 16. Her father, who is a merchant, pursued the couple on horseback for 30 miles, secured his daughter and shot Chide in the leg. Chide's wound was dangerous and it was reported that he would not recover, but last night he again eloped on horseback with Miss Smith. They have not yet been heard from.

RELEASE

Of General Methuen Fixed For Two O'clock Thursday Afternoon Brodrick Announces.

London, March 13.—In the case of Commons today Hon. St. John Brodrick announced that the release of Lord Methuen had been set for 2 o'clock this afternoon. Methuen, he said, was doing well.

London, March 13.—Secretary Grodrick though he denied that Methuen was to be exchanged for Boer Commandant Krutzinger, admitted that the latter's trial on a treason charge had been postponed. Krutzinger's life for Methuen's liberty is probably the price England will pay for Delarey's coup.

KIDNAPING CASE.

There are no new developments in the Clyde Smith kidnaping case, the story of which was printed exclusively in the Advocate Wednesday. Mr. W. T. Smith said today that the child is not here and that he has heard nothing from his son later than the telegram which appeared in these columns yesterday.

PROTOCOL READY.

Washington, March 13.—Minister Calve of Costa Rica and Corea of Nicaragua called upon Acting Secretary of State Hill today and informed him that the protocol between those countries and the United States providing for the construction of the Nicaraguan canal had been prepared and was ready for signature.

Washington, March 13.—Maj. Gen. S. B. Myoing was relieved today by direction of the President from command of the department of California and ordered to proceed immediately to this city.

CHARGES

HAVE BEEN MADE AGAINST REV. MR. HILL

HIS ROMANTIC MARRIAGE IS NOW RECALLED.

DASHED AWAY WITH FAIR BRIDE

Charges Preferred Are Not Known.

Bishop Walder of Cincinnati to Preside at Trial.

Findlay, O., March 13.—Charges have been preferred against Rev. John Wesley Hill, formerly of Findlay, Ohio, and will, it is said, be presented at the M. E. conference to be held at Bellefontaine, Penn., on the 20th of this month. Hill is now in charge of the Grace M. E. church of Harrisburg, Penn., and some of the wealthiest people of Pennsylvania's capital are members of his congregation. Rev. Dr. S. C. Swallow of the M. E. church at Glenn Rock, Penn., it is said, is the author of the complaint against the former Ohio man.

The older people of Findlay remember Rev. Mr. Hill as the herald of strenuous life in the ministry, and among them are not a few who now cry "I told you so."

Ten years ago when the Ohio State Republican convention was held in Toledo, Hill delivered a prayer so eloquent and of such timely invocation, that he was roundly applauded when he said "Amen."

Young Hill was a son of a staid, old Methodist minister, who lived and preached in McComb, a village near here. Wesley was an unusually bright lad. It was a seven-days' wonder when he studied for the ministry and was ordained. He fell in love with Miss Nora Holmes, a beautiful and vivacious young lady of this city and a society girl of prominence. Her parents, objected to the match. The young apostle haunted the house by day and night, always with a horse near at hand. One day two confederates appeared on the scene. One palmed himself off as a newspaper reporter and engaged the irate father in an interview, while the other called on the young lady, and they sat chatting on the front veranda. Then a horse and buggy dashed down the street, stopped in front of the house. The girl rushed down the steps, Hill reached out of the buggy and helped her in, and then drove like mad to McComb, 10 miles away, where his good, old father married them.

Old man Holmes raced after the couple, but arrived at McComb after the knot had been tied.

Then the young divine and his bride went to Utah, where he had received an appointment as missionary to the Mormons. His eloquence won him many laurels and a reputation as a pulpit orator. He soon returned here, with a splendid record behind him. For many years he was in charge of a church at Fostoria, and then drifted East, each change being for the better. For the last few years he has been in charge of the sweetest congregation in Harrisburg, and has been a society man as well. His friends and relatives here profess absolute ignorance of the nature of the charge preferred against him and assert their faith in his innocence.

Bishop Walder of Cincinnati will be in charge of the conference that is to try the accused.

MISS ALICE ROOSEVELT ARRIVES AT HAVANA

Met There by Governor General Wood Who Escorts Her to the Palace. Senator Platt to Return.

Havana, March 13.—Miss Alice Roosevelt arrived here yesterday. She was met by Governor General Wood, who escorted her to the palace.

A number of politicians, including Senator-elect Dr. Belmont, of Massachusetts, sent a telegram to her asking her to intercede with General Wood to obtain the pardon of a murderer, who is to die by the garrote.

Miss Roosevelt is to preside at a lawn party here today given for the purpose of securing aid for the widows of soldiers.

Senator Platt of New York, arrived on the same steamer with Miss Roosevelt. He refused to be interviewed and will start on his return Friday.

Found Dead.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 13.—Wm. L. Elkins, Jr., was found dead in bed this morning at his home, Menlo Lodge, near this city. He had been ill since October with spinal trouble. Mr. Elkins was 38 years old, a son of the millionaire traction man and was himself identified with many business interests.

THOMPSON ARRESTED.

Port Huron, Mich., March 13.—Chas. D. Thompson ex-supreme finance keeper of the supreme tent Knights of the Macabees, who some time ago confessed a shortage of $57,000 was arrested yesterday on a complaint sworn out by Sheriff Maines.

BURIAL.—The funeral of the late Mrs. Ellsworth Connell took place from the Second M. E. church this afternoon at 2 o'clock, the services being conducted by the Rev. A. E. Johnson, pastor of the First M. E. Church. The interment was made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

SUPREME COURT

Sustains Ordinance Passed by Detroit Council—A Salvation Army Case in Michigan.

Lansing, Mich., March 13.—The supreme court filed an opinion this morning dismissing the habeas corpus applied for by Major Blanche Cox, of the Salvation army. The decision sustains the ordinance passed by the Detroit city council.

The ordinance passed by the Detroit city council was mainly directed against "stump" speakers on the campus, but naturally affected the Salvation army. Major Cox went to Detroit from Indianapolis to test the ordinance, and after being arrested and imprisoned several times for violating the ordinance, appealed to the supreme court.

NEGRO VOTE

MAY GO TO MARK HANNA FOR PRESIDENT.

Gossip in Washington Over Statement of Negro Office Holder Concerning Hanna and Roosevelt.

Washington, March 13.—President Roosevelt recently told a story at a dinner party, where Senator Hanna was also one of the guests, which may have an important bearing on the presidential campaign of 1904. Already it is accepted as evidence that the President is looking after his own political future and incidentally raises the question whether Senator Hanna will be one of his rivals.

The story is that Prof. Booker T. Washington asked Judson W. Lyons, the register of the United States treasury, whether he favored the nomination of Roosevelt for 1904. Lyons, a negro from Georgia, said that he would be very happy indeed to use his influence for President Roosevelt unless, he added, Senator Hanna should be a candidate.

"If Mr. Hanna desires the nomination," he continued, "I must and will support him, whether I retain my present office or not."

The conversation was reported to the President, who promptly said: "All right. I admire a man who is loyal to his friends. I have nothing to fear from a man like that. Mr. Lyons' statement does not jar me a bit, and he shall retain the office," said Roosevelt when he heard the statement.

This story has caused a great amount of gossip in Washington, as it has set the politicians and public men to talking about the chances of Roosevelt and Hanna.

The President and Senator Hanna are warm friends, and it is morally certain that if the senator should decide to become a candidate, Mr. Roosevelt would be the first person to be made aware of his intention.

Ohio Republicans in Washington say that the political situation in their State makes it absolutely certain that Senator Hanna will not try to get the presidential nomination. They say that if he did, Senator Foraker would throw all his strength for Roosevelt.

On the other hand if Senator Foraker should be a candidate Senator Hanna's influence would be sure to go to Roosevelt.

SCORE

DROWNED WHEN A SQUALL UPSET BOAT

DIVERS TRY TO RECOVER THE BODIES OF VICTIMS.

CYCLONE LIFTED STEAMER UP

And Dropped It Bottom Up Drowning the Passengers and Crew Like Rats in a Trap.

Vicksburg, Miss., March 13.—The steamer Providence, plying between this port and Lake Palmyra was overturned yesterday by a sudden squall at lone landing and 21 of her passengers and crew were drowned.

The Dead.

Captain William Cassidy, of Vicksburg, master.
Charles Roup of Vicksburg, cotton seed buyer.

Seventeen colored rowboats and deck hands whose names have not been reported.

The ill-fated boat left here at noon Tuesday on her regular trip, carrying a large miscellaneous cargo of freight and a large number of passengers. Just as the steamer was entering Lake Palmyra a sudden wind and rain storm of cyclonic proportions came out of the west catching the Providence broadside on. The little vessel was lifted almost entirely out of the water.

Most of the crew and passengers were below decks at the time and were drowned like rats in a trap. Only nine of the boat's entire company were saved. The property loss will amount to several thousand dollars. Messrs. Scott, Roup and Lancaster were all married men and leave large families. A steamer carrying caskets and divers left for the scene immediately and will attempt to recover all the bodies.

PATRICK TRIAL

TO DISPROVE THE STORY OF VALET JONES

Physicians Make Practical Demonstrations—Hope Dawns for the Celebrated Lawyer.

New York, March 13.—Dr. John H. Gardner was on the stand again in the Patrick trial. Assistant District Attorney Osborne handed the witness a bottle of chloroform, a towel and a sponge and asked him to saturate the towel and sponge with chloroform, let them stand half an hour and then put a match to them. Charles E. Jones testified that he burned the chloroform saturated towel with which he had killed Rice after it had been on Rice's face for half an hour.

At the afternoon session Dr. Love, on cross examination, said he had no doubt Rice was suffering from lung trouble when Dr. Curry made an examination 10 hours before death, but Dr. Curry overlooked it.

Dr. Gardner said that in the experiment with the towels soaked in chloroform the first towel blazed in nine minutes, smoldered for 51 minutes and then went out. The second one burned slowly for 15 minutes and smoldered 54 minutes. One third of the material was consumed by the blaze in the first test and one-fourth in the second. The sponges used resisted the action of the fire better than the cotton material of the towel.

Assistant District Attorney Osborne produced a false beard and mustache mounted on wires, and asked an opportunity to pour an ounce of chloroform on it, and hang it by an open window to prove that the odor of the drug would not remain on the beard for an hour, as Dr. Curry, Rice's physician, said it would. The Recorder would not agree to this.

San Francisco, Cal., March 13.—The schooner Reporter went ashore a mile south of the Cliff House this morning. The crew was landed on the beach. The vessel is fast breaking up and will be a total loss.

Still Misrepresenting,

The American-Tribune in its article denying that it misrepresented Mr. L. E. Chapin, the hydraulic engineer, is very careful to suppress what he said in his letter to City Solicitor Phil B. Smythe, and printed in the Advocate in connection with the letter to City Clerk Maurath. Mr. Chapin in that letter said:

"The Tribune in its editorial does not correctly quote me, but rather quotes the words of the reporter who has run his version of the interview, rather than that of the writer.

"The writer has no opinion to express of the position of the American-Tribune, as he has no knowledge of the expressions of that paper, except that of the 7th day of March, in which the action of the Council was commended in the appointment of the committee of citizens."

Mr. Chapin concludes his letter with an explanation of the pumping machinery of the present water works plant, which he says, "is NOT sufficient to enable all citizens and taxpayers to enjoy an equal benefit of a public water supply."

This last statement of Mr. Chapin is a very essential fact in the discussion of the real issue before the people. It is of the greatest importance to the real issue. Yet the A.-T. suppresses it.

The only creditable thing the A.-T. has done in regard to the water works question was the faint approval of the Council's action in appointing the non-partisan committee. Had the paper given a frank, square-out approval of that proceeding it would not need to go out of town for any commendation of its course.

No event of the war save the early successes of the Boers, in their advance on the British camps and strongholds, seems to have created the sensation in England and elsewhere that has followed the Boer victory of last Friday. Only the other day it was announced in parliament that the war would end in a brief time, and the return home of some of the British troops had been ordered. Now the talk in London is of further reinforcements. General Methuen's capture gains importance by the fact that he ranks next to Kitchener in South Africa. As the British hold numbers of leading Boers prisoners and talk of dealing summarily with them, Methuen, it is presumed, will be held as a hostage for their safety. Some of the Boers have been executed on the finding of military courts. With Methuen a prisoner this it not likely to continue. The censure in England for military mishaps and lack of success is falling heavily on the administration.

An attempt was made in the Senate yesterday to force out of committee the bill that has passed the House submitting a constitutional amendment to the States for the election of United States senators by the people. After several senators had spoken in favor of submitting the amendment, Senator Hoar took the floor in violent opposition. He derided the so-called popular movement for a change in the way of electing senators as indefensible, and declared that if the public showed it wanted such legislation he would still oppose it. Senator Hoar has always maintained his opposition to the election of senators by popular vote, and there is no prospect such a change will be sanctioned by the senate, even to the extent of allowing the States to vote on it.

ANTI-TRUST LAWS MUST BE GENERAL.

The supreme court of the United States has just decided the Illinois anti-trust law to be unconstitutional, and this decision also, in the principles it sets forth, makes short work of the anti-trust laws of thirteen states of the south and west, including the famous anti-trust laws of Texas and Missouri, considered the most radical of any State of the Union. The decision is easily understood and its force will be appreciated by all. Under the Constitution of the United States, by the fourteenth amendment "the privileges of immunities of citizens of the United States" are placed on a condition of absolute equality before the law. This equality, it is the argument of the supreme court, is destroyed or impaired by the anti-trust laws which are made to apply to all combinations of capital, skill or arts in respects to the sale and purchase of goods, merchandise or commodities; but an exception is made that they shall not apply to agricultural products and live stock. These pursuits can make combinations increasing or reducing prices or preventing free competition, without incurring the penalty prescribed in the anti-trust laws.

The granger interests in the State Legislatures of thirteen States, it is very evident were opposed to trusts in manufactures, merchandise and transportation, but thought they might turn out a good thing if allowed to apply to farm products and live stock. This has shipwrecked the whole scheme of anti-trust laws. It is not the equal privileges and immunities demanded by the Constitution. A trust in the manufacture of pig iron cannot be prohibited while a trust in farm products is permissible. A trust law to be constitutional must apply to all combinations. There can be no exceptions.

TAILOR MADE GOWNS.

Simple General Utility Dresses to Be the Style This Spring.
For the warm spring days a tailor made dress will be found useful. This should be made, as its name indicates, in a rather simple manner, carefully fitted and with strapped or stitched seams. Smart little frocks can be introduced to vary the monotony, and these can be of delicate colors harmonizing with the goods. With a costume of this sort a rather severe hat is a necessity. By this is meant a hat that is smart rather than dressy.

The blouse waist is being more and more replaced by the dress. Especially is this the case with women whose stout figures will not permit them to look well in a two piece costume. Besides the tailor made costume of women goods there will be worn a little later chic general utility gowns of black and white foulard, brilliantine and linen.

Dresses of blue or red brilliantine, trimmed with bands of black moire, will be both useful and smart.
A serviceable tailor made gown is shown in the cut. It is made of deep blue cheviot, with a front of tan broadcloth. This front is made plain, with two rows of buttons. The waist has two pointed straps over the shoulders, and it is made to pouch slightly in front. The sleeves are full at the wrists, with tight fitting cuffs. The skirt is trimmed with four rows of strapping. The hat worn with this is of white felt, trimmed with buff colored ribbon and a broad band of black velvet.

Prominent Society Ladies Who From Personal Experience Praise Zoa Phora as "Woman's Friend" in Every Weakness.

In the history of medicine and remedies there is not found a parallel for the wonderful record of Zoa Phora in cures of obstinate cases of female weakness and with absolutely no failures. This is shown by proof positive in the words of the grateful women all over the land who rise and as with one voice praise Zoa Phora for its great work. They pronounce it with one accord "Woman's Friend" and who can gainsay the testimony of those cured. The proof of the pudding is in chewing the string. The strongest endorsement a medicine can have is the praise of a woman lifted from the slough of despair and a sickness worse than death, to health and strength and home happiness. Forges and paces can be written explaining the wonderful curative powers of a remedy but the testimony of one woman is proof. The testimony of thousands, irrefutable evidence that here is the one remedy that builds up and makes as good as new where all others fail. Zoa Phora is a remedy that goes at once to the seat of the trouble, corrects the disorder, imparts and maintains a healthy vigor to the weakened and diseased organs, aiding them and strengthening them to perform their natural functions and gives tone to the general system by purifying and enriching the blood. No other medicine can do this. Zoa Phora never fails. Read what the women of Des Moines, Illinois, say of its wonderful curative properties. No such compliment was ever before paid any remedy.

Mary's Little Lamb Really Lived
Many people will be surprised to learn that Mary and her little lamb, celebrated in verse, were realities. The original was Mary E. Sawyer, afterward Mrs. Columbus Tyler. She was born and brought up near Worcester, Mass., where the lamb episode really happened. From the fleece sheared from her pet two pairs of stockings were knit. One pair, treasured by the old lady until she was about 80 years old, was contributed by her ten years ago to a fund which was being raised for the preservation of the old South Church, Boston. The yarn of the stocking was raveled out and small pieces were attached to cards bearing her autograph. From the sale of these cards the sum of $100 was realized. The pet of Mrs. Tyler's childhood was the little newborn lamb, found almost dead, which she had carefully nursed back to life, sitting up all one night to care for it. Daily she combed its fleece and tied the wool with bright ribbons. It became devotedly attached to her and followed her about everywhere. One day her brother "Nat" suggested that they take the lamb to school. It followed willingly enough and Mary secreted it beneath her seat, a high, boarded-up, old-fashioned seat. It lay there very quietly, covered up with her shawl. By and by Mary had to leave her seat to recite. A moment later there was a clatter and a patter on the floor and the lamb came following after.

The teacher, a Miss Polly Kimball, who was afterward the mother of Mr. Loring, of Boston, did not reprimand Mary, but laughed heartily with all of her pupils. Mary, very much mortified, led the lamb out of doors, and put it in a shed, where it remained until she went home at noon. There happened to be visiting the school that morning a young man—John Roulstone, the son of Mary's dancing master. He was greatly pleased at the incident, and the next day came again to the schoolhouse, bringing Mary a slip of paper containing three stanzas which he had composed. Two stanzas were afterward added by a Mrs. Townsend. When she had grown to young womanhood Mary taught school at Fitchburg. After her marriage she held the position of matron of the McLean Insane Asylum, at Somerville, Mass., for thirty-five years. Girl Badly Frightened. Miss Gertrude Siegel, a young domestic in the family of George L. Richardson of Franklin addition, was badly frightened one evening this week while on her road home. She was crossing the creek bridge on German street, when a strange man stepped up to her, and making some remark attempted to take hold of her. She was thoroughly frightened and started to run, soon meeting some people near the bridge. They returned to the scene but the fellow had left. Weak persons should drink Consumers' Beer. It gives strength.

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP. Wm. Mothershead was in Toledo last week, where he purchased several Jersey cows. The condition of Mrs. Alvey Swisher has not improved any. The Democrats of this township will hold their nomination Saturday, March 15th. Owing to the large Democratic majority, the Republicans never place a ticket in the field. Regular services will be held at the Lutheran church next Sunday, after which the annual election of officers will be held. Read Advocate "want ads." Her Preference. Fred—But, my darling, I would work hard and eventually fortune would crown my efforts. Houses Scarce—Ran Off With the Key—Funeral Buckeye Lake Work—Keeping Bachelors' Hall.

Hebron, O., March 13.—J. R. Harrigan, the new superintendent, has taken charge of this end of the Columbus, Newark & Buckeye Lake road. Work is progressing rapidly.

Two dwelling houses are now in course of erection. Contractor J. B. Gebhart of Pleasantville, is putting up one for Charles Smoke on Newark street and Henry Jones is working on George Taylor's house on Second street.

The funeral services of Mrs. Joseph Hunt, who died last Tuesday at her home at Buckeye Lake, was held at the M. E. church, conducted by the Rev. M. Rogers, pastor of the M. E. church; interment in Hebron cemetery.

The foundation for the McClintock business house on East Main street, is being laid.

Mrs. J. B. Hersberger and daughter of Newark, were guests of Mrs. Minnie Jones, last week.

Mrs. Dr. Oren Kramer and daughter Dorothy, arrived here Wednesday. The doctor has recently located here, but it is impossible for them to get a house. There is not a vacant one in town and they are boarding for a time. It is rumored there are fifteen families wanting houses here now. It would be advisable to parties owning vacant lots to build for tenants.

Miss Lorena Knox of Granville, is spending a few weeks here.

Owing to the absentmindedness of Captain Kelsey on Tuesday evening, quite a number of the "Eastern Stars" were badly disappointed. The captain boarded an electric car in the evening for Newark, forgetting that he carried the key to the F. & A. M. lodge room, where the Stars meet. At 8:30 p. m. quite a number had assembled at the door and tried every way imaginable but could not gain entrance. Not a key in town would fit the lock, so after pouring many rich blessings on Captain's head, the crowd adjourned sine die.

It may be of interest to the maids and widows of our little village to know that living here in a beautiful red brick house in the suburbs, are two very eligible widowers, who are plodding along life's weary way trying to keep bachelor's hall, and for the last few weeks getting pretty well acquainted in the culinary department. Now they are both considered good "catches" and very fond of ladies' society. We think it would be wise for those in sympathy to put on their most bewitching smiles and not trust them much longer in the culinary department, for we all know that anyone skilled in that work has unlimited license to be "crusty." However, the elder, who is in the late "seventies," and hardly to be considered in a matrimonial way, declares he is sick of living that way, is very lonesome, and has that tired feeling which generally is the first symptoms "of spring."

J. W. Whittus of the Columbus Medical College, accompanied by his sister, Miss Nellie, spent Sunday here with his parents.

Miss Cordelia Sharer delightfully entertained Mr. and Mrs. David Cletner and son, Theron, and Mrs. Mary Cletner at dinner, Sunday.

Miss Mary Hutzell of Columbus, was the guest of her mother, Mrs. Sara Hutzell, Sunday.

A NIHILIST'S STORY

(Original.)

"I am going to St. Petersburg on a mission," said a nihilist in New York to a fellow worker. "Do you know any one there who will shield me if cornered?"

The question was answered by a story.

Not long ago I was there myself. One day I was directed to carry a bundle of printed revolutionary documents from our rooms to the house of a member in a different part of the city. I studiously avoided any haste, sauntering along as though I had no wish to be at the end of my route. At a street crossing, glancing aside to avoid being run down by some vehicle, I saw a man standing on the opposite corner with his eyes fixed intently upon me. He had his hands in his pockets and was apparently loitering, but the moment he saw that I noticed him he started off briskly in the opposite direction from what I was going.

Nevertheless he did not lose sight of me. I had not gone far when, in order to be able to look back without my design being suspected, I stopped before a shop window, glancing rearward out of the corner of my eye. I was just in time to see the man I was looking for disappear in an alley.

I was now thoroughly frightened. Without doubt he was shadowing me. For some time I watched him with one eye and the policeman I happened to see by the way with the other. Whenever I saw a policeman in the distance I would take a different route. At one time, when one was pretty near, my shadower came up beside me, and I was sure would have caused my arrest had not the policeman's back been toward us, while I at the same time turned into a different street.

We nihilists of course all knew the location of the police stations and the residences of the officers. Suddenly noticing that I was passing the house of the chief of the district, it occurred to me to play a desperate game. I resolved to bluff my watcher into the belief that he was after the wrong man by boldly entering the house. What under heaven I was to do there I did not know. Mounting a few steps, I tried the door. It was locked, but at the moment was opened by a young lady in hat and wraps, evidently about to come out. I stepped inside without an invitation and closed the door.

"May I speak with you a moment?" I asked, removing my hat.

The parlor door was open, and as I looked wistfully into the room she motioned me to enter, then followed. I turned and faced her, studying by her expression what kind of a person I had to deal with. Then I spoke in a low voice, seriously, pleadingly.

"You have the life of a fellow being in your keeping."

"Yes; I am a nihilist. In this package are revolutionary documents. A man outside has been shadowing me. He will come in to make sure that I am not what he suspects. The result will be Siberia. Rather than that—"

I took a revolver from my pocket.

"If I am discovered trying to save you, it means ruin for me and my father. He would go to Siberia instead of you."

"You are right," I replied. "I will not ask or accept such a sacrifice."

I placed the muzzle of the revolver in my mouth and drew back the hammer. Before I could pull the trigger I felt a soft hand on my arm.

"Undo your package," she said. "Be quick."

I untied the strings and unfolded the paper. The girl, snatching a dozen books from the library, tossed them to me. I put them in the place of the documents and tied up the package. I had not quite finished when there was a ring at the doorbell. Throwing the documents under the sofa, the young lady went to answer the summons. I seated myself on the sofa, holding the package in my lap. When the door was opened, I heard voices in the hall.

"Is the colonel at home?"

"No; my father is out."

"I am one of the secret police. A man has come in here whose name is on the black list. It is quite probable that he is playing a double game, pretending to work for your father."

"There is a man in the parlor, a messenger from a friend of mine who has sent him to return some books I lent her."

"Can I see him?"

"Certainly."

"Stand up," he said.

I did as he commanded, and he searched me. Not finding anything to compromise me, he untied the package and found the books. He was not satisfied, but there was nothing for him to do but acquiesce. No one is to be trusted in Russia, and even this daughter of a police official was suspected by the man, as I could see by his looks.

"I am sorry to have to disturb you," he said to her, "but when I come to recount the matter to your father I am sure he will hear me out in what I have done. Good morning."

The narrator ceased and the listener asked:

"The name of this young girl?"

"Not for my life would I give it."

"Ah, well, I can't blame you. What did you do next?"

"I was ordered by our chief to leave the country as soon as I could do so without exciting attention. He feared that, in addition to being in jeopardy myself, I would bring down the police on all the rest of our society. I made an attempt to leave the same night, succeeded, made for the coast and embarked for America."

APPARATUS

FOR WEST AND NORTH END FIRE DEPARTMENTS ARRIVES.

Description of New Chemical Engines and Hose Wagons Which Have Just Come.

The two new combination chemical engines and hose wagons authorized to be purchased for the West Newark and proposed North Newark hose houses, arrived in Newark Thursday, and were taken from the cars at the Second street crossing by a gang of men superintended by Chief Bausch.

The wagons are numbered 3 and 4, the former to be put in use right away in West Newark, and the latter to be used in North Newark.

The engines were manufactured by the Seagraves company of Columbus, and are first class and strictly up to date.

The frame is made of steel, ventilated by the latest improved method. Each has a capacity of from 1000 to 1200 feet of 2 1/2 inch cotton fire hose, fitted with improved rollers at rear end of sides and bottom of body to allow the hose to pay out easily.

The driver's seat is large and roomy and fitted with brass guard-rail, and improved handles for mounting.

The driver's toe board is fitted with a new ball bearing gong.

The rear step is suspended from the rear of the body in a substantial manner, with metal railing extending upward and forward over the body to the rear of driver's seat, and equipped with nozzle holders.

The fenders and running boards are made of steel nicely curved and ornamented.

There are two tool boxes on each wagon one suspended from the center of the body, the other forward of the rear step.

The wheel brake is of the latest design, double lever pattern with leverage of 20 to 1, the treadle extending the full length of the driver's seat to allow more than one person to operate same.

The wheels are provided with overlapping steel tires and brass capped hubs. The gear, fifth wheel and axles are the best in use.

The horse pole is brass trimmed and has spring and swivel whiffletrees.

The chemical tanks, two on each wagon, have a capacity of 35 gallons each. They are made of the very best hammered Lake Superior copper, weighing seven and one half pounds to the square foot, provided with the latest designed agitator and acid dump, overflow and blow off pipe, washout spud and pressure gauge. The tanks are heavily tinned on the inside, with wheel on outside for revolving the agitator.

These tanks are so that one or both tanks may be emptied, neither need be emptied, but a continuous stream can be furnished at the nozzle from either or both tanks. These tanks are under the drivers seat, and are accompanied with acid and soda receptacles.

There are 200 feet of one inch chemical hose, with reel with flanged rollers located over center of the wagon, extending longitudinally with the body. The hose can play from either side without interfering with any other equipment.

Each wagon is equipped with the following:

Two brass nickel plated N. Y. F. D. lanterns, one steel crowbar, one pick head fire axe, two wrenches, one small plaster hook, one 12x12 foot trussed inside extension ladder, two nozzle holders on rear step, one leather cushion, one whip socket, two brass hose pipes, two acid receptacles.

It is thought that the West Newark hose house will be in operation by next Monday.

Anthony Lampton will be taken from the Central Department, and will be captain of the West End House, with the two new men, Orr and Huffman.

TRIPLETS

Celebrate the Anniversary of Their Birth at Hereford, Md.—A Rare Case, Say Physicians.

Baltimore, March 13.—The triplets of Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Price of Hereford, Baltimore county, celebrated their 42 birthday anniversary yesterday. These men are probably the oldest triplets, all males in this country. Their names are Abraham, Isaac and Jacob Price. Jacob Price lives at 1301 North Mount street. Isaac Price is principal of the public schools at Reynoldstown, Md., and Abraham is a salesman and lives at Westminster, Md. Physicians say that cases of triplets of the same sex living to the prime of life, are so rare as to be considered remarkable.

The Prices were born in York county, Pa. There are nine children in the family, including the triplets, all of whom are living and in excellent health. Abraham and Isaac Price each have three children and Jacob Price has two children, both boys.

The parents of the triplets are hale and hearty, and recently celebrated the golden anniversary of their wedding. Mrs. Price is 73 years old, and Mr. Price is two years her senior.

IN SCOTLAND.

Some Ideas We Received From the Land of Burns.

It has long been known that water-brash and other dyspeptic symptoms almost universal among the Scotch Highlanders is the result of the habitual use among these people of what is known as Scotch brose, which consists of just simple raw oatmeal stirred up with a little hot water. It is not so generally known that the prevalence of indigestion in this country, which has given us the reputation of being a nation of dyspeptics, is largely due to essentially the same cause; namely the use of farinaceous, or cereal foods in an uncooked or imperfectly cooked condition.

We should look to our diet if we would be strong and healthy. It is not so much what we eat as what our stomachs can digest that makes us strong.

The whole wheat when properly prepared contains all the elements to sustain life and furnish nutrition, but it must be thoroughly cooked.

The food expert, who made the experiments which led to the discovery of Malt-Nut, devised a process whereby grains and nut oils are combined in a delicious food in a digestible form. The grains are subjected to intense heat, twice cooked, and malted, which takes them through the first and hardest stages of digestion, the oil is extracted from the nut and emulsified thus rendering it easy of assimilation and in a condition to enter the work of rebuilding the daily loss in the body.

Malt-Nut is ready-to-use. A few spoonfuls served with milk or cream, makes a dainty, delicious addition to the meal. Sold by grocers everywhere.

JUDGE ALTGELD

Tried to Force a Fee on Mr. Veach When He Was City Clerk, But Didn't Succeed.

Mr. William Allen Veach was talking with several friends this morning regarding the death of former Governor John P. Altgeld at Joliet, Ill., and he took occasion to speak kindly of the Judge and to refer to the time when he became acquainted with him. It was in the eighties when Mr. Veach was City Clerk and at the time that Altgeld was arranging to build the street car system in this city. Judge Altgeld called at the City Clerk's office to learn something regarding certain city ordinances and Mr. Veach readily furnished the information which required about two hours' work on the part of the City Clerk.

Mr. Altgeld accepted the papers and inquired what the charge would be. Mr. Veach, who is noted for his courtesy on all occasions, promptly told him that there was no charge but that he had done the work cheerfully and was glad to be of assistance to Judge Altgeld. The Judge was surprised. He was not used to such treatment from officials and he so stated.

He then tried to force Mr. Veach to fix a charge for the work, arguing that it was every man's duty to make a reasonable charge for service performed and that labor performed gratuitously is seldom appreciated.

"But did the Judge force a fee on you?" interrupted one of the group.

"No," replied Mr. Veach. "I felt the force of the Governor's logic, but I told him that I could not accept pay for the little work I had done and there the matter dropped. I met Judge Altgeld after that and we became very good friends."

Washington, March 13.—The following cablegrams were made public here: Wilhelmshaven, March 12.

Now that my brother has left the hospitable shores of the United States, homeward bound, I feel it a pleasing duty to express to you how deeply grateful I am and the whole of the German people are for the splendor of the hospitality and cordiality of the reception which was accorded to Prince Henry by all the American people.

My outstretched hand has been met by you with a firm, manly and solid grip.

May Heaven bless our relations with peace and good will between the two great nations.

My best compliments and wishes to Miss Alice.

WILLIAM, I. R.

Washington, March 12. Emperor William, Wilhelmshaven:

Your brother's visit to this country has accomplished much in showing the depth of kindly feeling which exists between the two nations. It has been most fortunate in every way and I trust you will permit me to congratulate you on the admirable manner in which he has borne himself. He has won the hearty sympathy and regard of all with whom he has been brought in contact. We have welcomed him for his own sake and we have welcomed him still more heartily as the representative of yourself and of the mighty German people. I thank you, in the name of the American people for what you have done, and I thank you personally in addition, for the gracious form which your courtesy took.

RAILWAY AFFAIRS.

COMBINE TO CEASE ON APRIL 1. IT IS SAID.

Letter Received from Grant Ferguson. The Day's Railway News, Local and General.

New York, March 13.—The most powerful combination of railroads that ever existed in the country for the maintenance of rates and division of business will cease to exist April 1. In this pool are the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Erie, Baltimore & Ohio, West Shore, Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, Lehigh Valley, New York, Ontario & Western and the Central, of New Jersey. The combination was broken at a meeting of the members yesterday. Regular returns were made of the tonnage carried out of New York, by each company and certain quotas were allotted to each railroad. For each ton carried in excess of its regular quota, each road paid $10 into the pool, the total of which was then divided among those roads which did not come up to their regular shares.

The breaking of the pool was precipitated by the announcement that the President had intimated that proceedings would be begun against all roads which were members of a pooling combination. President Newman, of the New York Central, was among those to strongly urge the dissolution of the combine.

From U. G. Ferguson.

Mr. Charles F. Dean has received the following letter from Mr. U. G. Ferguson, formerly a prominent Baltimore and Ohio conductor of this city, now connected with the Oregon Short Line railroad of the Union Pacific railroad:

Granger, Wyo., March 7, 1902.

Mr. Charles F. Dean.

Dear Sir and Brother:—I thought I would write you a line and acknowledge receipt of the articles sent. They were delivered "O K" by Harry Stouffer. He is working for me in the yard and is well satisfied. He quit breaking on the seventh district and came here. Well, Charley, I did well when I came here. I have a better position than it was possible for me to get on the Baltimore and Ohio, and I have every reason to believe there is something better in store for me here. This is the finest place in the country for hunting and fishing. All the streams are full of mountain trout and there are plenty of elk, deer, antelope and bear within ten miles of Granger. I just received a letter from Barnes informing me that he would start for this place in a few days. The boys out of jobs in Newark are foolish to remain there. There are plenty of good jobs in the West, and all it needs is a little backbone to make a start. My family live in Evanston, 100 miles from Salt Lake City, and 75 miles from Ogden. We often visit Salt Lake City. Well, give my best to all the boys, and especially to Frank Knauber, with kind regards for yourself. Hoping to hear from you soon. I am yours of F. C. B.

U. G. FERGUSON.

Panhandle Engine Experiments.

The motive power officials of the Panhandle are not yet ready to accept the latest style Pennsylvania railroad engines, but are experimenting with two that were borrowed from the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago. These are the E-2 Atlantic type machines. They have been doing good work, but the officials are desirous of getting a better engine if possible. They will experiment with the class E-2 for a few weeks longer and may try one of the improved class L machines for the fast local trains. The old class O and class P passenger engines of the Panhandle are wearing out fast, and must be replaced with heavier machines in a short time.

Paine's Celery Compound

Earnest and Candid Statements Made by a California Lady.

The absolute need of an honest and genuine invigorator and health giver in the spring season is deeply impressed on the mind of every thinking and intelligent man and woman.

The happy cure of Mrs. J. E. Wilcox of Winters, Cal., through the use of Paine's Celery Compound, created widespread astonishment and joy amongst her friends and neighbors who were exceedingly anxious regarding her condition.

The best medical treatment failed even to give Mrs. Wilcox a few days of relief from her sufferings of mind and body. At last, Paine's Celery Compound saved her from a terrible end and planted her feet firmly on the rock of health.

Read Mrs. Wilcox's letter of testimony, dear reader, and if you remain obdurate and unbelieving after such an earnest and convincing confession of cure nothing but a direct act of Providence can snatch you from the dangers and perils of your position. Mrs. Wilcox says:—

"I feel it my duty to tell you what Paine's Celery Compound did for me. Some years ago my head troubled me so that it seemed I should be crazy. It was caused by overstudy. I asked the advice of two doctors who gave me medicine to no effect, and I did not know what I would do. I did not want to see any one, everything seemed so strange. I had a tired, lagging feeling my bowels were out of order, my kidneys troubled me, and I felt badly, but before I had taken half of one bottle of Paine's Celery Compound I felt like a new person. Four bottles cured me and I would recommend it to all who feel the way I did. I can't praise it half enough, for I know it saved my life and kept me from imprisonment in an insane asylum, which is as bad as death."

Robbery at Somerset.

Somerset, O., March 13.—The B. & O. freight and ticket office and the U. S. express office at this place were robbed Tuesday night. A number of express and freight packages were broken open. It cannot be positively stated if anything was taken. The burglars gained entrance to the depot by battering down the door with a heavy freight sled. It is surmised that the job was done by a gang of tramps that was seen in this vicinity that evening.

CHRISTIAN Endeavor.—The Plymouth Christian Endeavor will hold its regular business meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the chapel of the church.

Dainty Novelties.

Copper Buttons—Smart Belts For Evening Wear.

Copper buttons are the latest fad on a brown costume. They contrive a harmony of an exceedingly pleasing character. On a black dress when highly burnished they look smart. Besides the plain copper buttons there are others mixed with oxidized silver or steel or otherwise embellished.

The favorite belts for evening wear are generally made of the material in folds and cut on the bias. These can be pulled down to any shape, and fastened with jeweled pins are very attractive.

A NEW SHADE.

Attractive. An all white gown is very chic made with a folded band of black velvet or the velvet may reproduce the color of the flowers worn and so give an added touch of color.

Point d'esprit is very fashionable, and frocks for young girls made of this material are most effective when mounted over colored silk and daintily trimmed with narrow ribbons and lace insertions.

One of the new straw shapes is shown in the illustration. It is of yellow straw and is trimmed with black velvet ribbon and yellow and white roses. The underbrim is of tuckered chiffon, and it is looped up on the left side to allow a second band of the small yellow and white rosebuds to be seen. These chains of tiny roses go with the Louis XV. styles and are very popular at present.

A BRILLIANT SUMMER.

Fashion Authorities Predict a Season of Gay Dresses.

Fashion has struck the keynote of brilliancy. Gay fabrics, gay colors and frivolous styles are to prevail during the spring and summer. Narrow embroideries are seen on many of the dressy tailor mades, and lace appears on nearly every costume, be it tailor made or otherwise. Jabots of tulle and chiffon are fastened to the base of the collars in front. From all this it will be seen that stiff effects are things of the past.

Sleeves show more change than any other article of woman's dress. They are becoming daily more voluminous, especially below the shoulders. There is a new shade of heliotrope which, mixed with cerise lace, is very charming, especially when the lace is outlined with one of the new silver and white embroideries.

Soft fronts are useful accessories to the spring tailor made. These fronts usually simulate an underbust.

For the economical girl a front which simulates a waist will be useful. The illustration shows such a one. It is made of deep red silk panne, embroidered with white dots. It opens in front over a chemise of white mull, with a stitched turn-down collar and a dainty white tie. The fronts of red velvet are laced together by a stitched white taffeta tie passed through eyelets of white silk.

A USEFUL FRONT.

Bedroom Blinds.

If you have a sensitive eye and brain and sleep lightly, it is not at all a good plan to screen your windows with red blinds or curtains. Brain specialists report that a good many cases of weakening of intellect arise from this cause every year, and for some natures and constitutions it is certainly a very bad thing to do. The secret lies reflected in the face of the sleeper in the morning and allowed to rest there for some time has a bad effect on the eyes and brain. The best and healthiest color for bedroom blinds is green and dark green at that. It is always recommended by both brain doctors and oculists. Dark blue is next best, but not nearly so good as green. To induce the soundest and most restful kind of sleep, however, apart from brain sensitiveness, make the room absolutely pitch dark by means of a black blind. If you must have light, let it be green, and you will sleep well and never suffer. Red, too, is a great factor in keeping one awake.

Coroner Scott J. Evans has been engaged in investigating the death of B. & O. brakeman Wesley Wilson, who was found under the Pan Handle railroad bridge in East Newark, Friday morning, February 28, and died without regaining consciousness.

The coroner has examined several witnesses, and has made an examination of the scene. He said this morning that from what he could learn the deceased had been somewhat intoxicated, and probably fell between the tracks to the creek below, sustaining the fatal injuries.

A verdict according to these facts will be rendered, probably Friday.

J. F. Lingafelter.
Newark Savings Bank.
Dear Sir:
It is a well known fact, as the life insurance statisticians have proven that men who follow the sedentary and exacting business in which you are engaged, are subject to the more obstinate and persistent forms of Liver, Kidney, Blood and Nervous diseases. The strain under which you labor and your constant and continuing work brings on at last a torpidity or inaction of the liver and kidneys, which can have but one result unless adequate means are used to counteract them.
Are you aware that you can devote your time to your accustomed business without risking these very serious consequences? Do you know that hundreds of men in your calling have regained perfect health and strength by the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy? C. M. Barnes, of Waterbury, Vt., writes us:
"I have suffered untold agony from kidney disease in its worst forms for years, and was obliged to give up my work entirely. I heard of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and since I began its use I have been able to return to my work. I have not been as well in years. I know of other cases where it has done great good."
Do you realize what this means to you and every other busy man whose overdevotion to his material interests has caused more or less physical break-down? At you would like to test the merits of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, we will gladly send you free by mail, enough for a trial.
It can be obtained from all druggists at one dollar for a large bottle.
Yours truly,
Dr. David Kennedy Corporation,
Rondout, N. Y.

A HARD STRUGGLE.
Many a Newark Citizen Finds the Struggle Hard.
With a back constantly aching. With distressing urinary disorders. Daily existence is but a struggle. No need to keep it up. Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you. Newark people endorse this claim.
Mr. John Nelson, of 41 Thirteenth street, says: "When I enlisted in the 7th Ohio Volunteers, under Capt. Nichols, I passed medical inspection readily. When I was discharged my back bothered me and at intervals ever after I had attacks of kidney complaint. My back was weak, and painful across the loins, and I was also greatly distressed by urinary weakness. I took every kind of medicine, but it availed me nothing. I tried Doan's Kidney Pills, getting a box at Clayton's drug store. After I used them my back ceased to ache, and I felt stronger. Besides mending my back they also corrected the urinary weakness. To a man of 81 years of age this is a great comfort."

IN THE AIR
The Germs of La Grippe are Conveyed Through the Atmosphere.
No one can escape the La Grippe germ because when an epidemic of the disease is prevailing the air is laden with it.
The reason that everyone does not have the disease at the same time is because the persons who are enjoying perfect health are able to successfully resist and throw off the infection, while those, who for any reason are not in the best of health, fall ready victims.
The first symptoms are those of acute catarrh resembling a hard cold and if prompt treatment is applied at this time, it can easily be broken up; one of the best remedies at this stage is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, sold by druggists everywhere and if taken freely, say one tablet every hour for two or three days, the dangers of pneumonia and serious complications will be averted.
The Rev. L. E. Palmer, Baptist clergyman of Ceresco, Mich., makes a statement of interest to all catarrh and grip sufferers. He says Stuart's Catarrh Tablets have certainly been a blessing to me. I have used them freely this fall and winter and have found them a safeguard against La Grippe and catarrhal troubles from which I have suffered for years. I feel that I can freely and conscientiously recommend them.
Persons who suffer from catarrh of the head and throat are very susceptible to La Grippe and such will find a pleasant, convenient and safe remedy in this new catarrh cure.
Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are composed entirely of harmless antiseptics and may be used as freely as necessary as they contain no cocaine, opiate or poisonous drug of any kind.

Fredonia, O., March 13.—What might have been a serious accident was averted by muddy roads yesterday. Bert Cochran was riding one of Billy Roberts' fiery horses. When crossing the bridge east of town one side of the structure caved in causing the horse to fall, throwing Mr. Cochran over its head and depositing him in a mud hole about one foot deep. We think from the looks of him a few minutes after the accident that he touched bottom. He was badly shaken up but no bones were broken.

CHAMP CLARK STORIES

Remembrances of Humorous Scenes In Congress.

Favorite Members Often Take Great Liberties Without Giving Offense. Tale of an Irishman and a Chicken. A Crack at a Solemn Statesman. Concerning the Color of Butter. Campaign Oratory That Went to Waste.

[Copyright, 1902, by Champ Clark.]

For some reason or other there are certain members—only a happy few—who can take great liberties with the house without giving offense. They are, for some occult reason, considered as privileged characters. Facile principles among these favorites is Hon. Peter Johnston Otey of Lynchburg, Va. Whenever Mr. Otey rises, the members all settle comfortably in their seats with their faces turned toward the gray haired Virginian in expectation of something racy, and they are rarely disappointed.

When the army bill was up in the Fifty-sixth congress, Mr. Otey offered an amendment providing an adequate number of dentists. He prefaced his speech with this remark, almost as daring as anything "Private" John Allen ever said: "Mr. Chairman, I do not thrust myself on the house very often. When I do, I have something to say that is tangible and worth talking about." Just as he concluded that breezy sentence, and while the house was laughing and applauding, Mr. Slayden of Texas asked Otey some question, whereupon the latter said: "I do not know to what the gentleman from Texas refers. He reminds me of the Irishman of whom I heard a story. He was eating eggs. The first one he swallowed went down all right, but in swallowing the second he heard the sound of a chick as it went down his throat, and then he exclaimed, 'Begorra, you have a sweet voice, but you spake too late!' I want gentlemen to come out now and say whether they are going to take care of 3,200,000 teeth, half of which are aching all the time. I appeal to gentlemen on this side of the house and on the other side regardless of recent elections and regardless of political affiliations to come forward and give the old soldier—the grand old soldier—a chance to get rid of the toothache."

It is a well known fact that most men, including congressmen, will sign most any sort of a petition. It so happened that a large majority of senators and representatives had signed petitions asking the speaker of the house and the president of the senate to permit consideration of a separate bill containing the provision of the Otey amendment. With a great flourish of trumpets Brother Otey proceeded to read the names. At last he read, "Senator John Henry Gear of Iowa"—And then he added impressively, "Who has gone." The next name he read was "Representative W. W. Groat of Vermont"—"Who will soon go," added Bailey of Texas in reference to the fact that General Groat refused to be a candidate for a seat in the house in 1900 in order to go to the senate, which he did not do, as Governor Dillingham, having the longest pole, knocked that luscious persimmon just as General Groat's lips were about to close upon it. Otey's amendment went through with a rush, as nearly every member has had experience enough to convince him that sweet Robbie Burns was correct when he defined toothache as "the bell of all diseases."

A Question of Style. There are fashions in styles of speaking just as there are in clothes. That of Hon. Gilbert N. Haugen of Iowa is rather solemn. When he was orating on the Groat bill, Judge Griggs of Georgia, who possesses a rich vein of humor, said to Hon. D. H. Smith of Kentucky, "Dave, as you are the most solemn looking man in the house, suppose you rise to 'a question of information' and ask Haugen where he studied theology."

Bailey's Humor. The Groat bill brought forth a good deal of humor in the last congress. Mr. Bailey of Texas is very stately and logical in his speeches, frequently eloquent, but rarely humorous. In his five minute speech devoted chiefly to the question of coloring oleomargarine in imitation of butter for purposes of deception he said: "Mr. Speaker, it frequently happens that a deception is an innocent one. No man claims that a dairy establishment—such, for instance, as the great Elgin creamery—when it sends its butter to one city more deeply colored than to another does so fraudulently. There are many innocent and harmless deceptions and most of all about the question of color. Who believes that a beautiful woman, when she happens to paint her cheek, is trying to deceive us to our injury? Yet, sir, many ladies—God bless them!—color their cheeks different from what God and nature painted them." These jocose remarks of the young, stately, handsome Texan brought down the house.

Captain Lamb's Surprising Parody. One of the noblest passages Lord Byron ever wrote was his apostrophe to Kirke White in his "English Bards and Scotch Reviewers."

Yes, she too much indulged thy fond pursuit; She sowed the seeds, but death has reaped the fruit.

"Twas thine own genius gave the fatal blow And helped to plant the wound that laid thee low. So the truck eagle, stretched upon the plain, No more through rolling clouds to soar again, Viewed his own father on the fatal dart And winged the shaft that quivered in his heart. 'Twas thine own hand, that, kinder far to feel, He nursed the punion which impelled the steel. While the same plume that had warmed his breast, Drank the last life drop of his bleeding breast."

When he penned those immortal lines in the early years of the nineteenth century, the author of "Childe Harold" did not dream that in the closing days of the same century they would be used in the American congress as an argument against oleomargarine. Yet such is the truth of history. Hon. John Lamb of Richmond, Va., is the man who performed the astounding feat. He was pounding away with a dry argumentative speech when suddenly and unexpectedly he electrified his audience with the following surprising and humorous parody on the above quoted verses of Byron:

Oh, what a noble cow was here undone! When Brindle's self destroyed her favorite son! Yes, she too much indulged thy fond pursuit; She sowed the seeds, but death has reaped the fruit.

"Twas thine own genius gave the fatal blow And helped to plant the wound that laid thee low. So the milker, stretched upon the plain, No more through waving grass to browse again, Viewed her own tallow on the fatal dart And winged the shaft that quivered in her heart."

Appearances Deceptive. Not satisfied, however, with that excerpt from the poets, he introduced Shakespeare by the following quotation:

Mark you this, Bassanio—The devil can cite Scripture for his purpose. An evil soul, producing holy witness, Is like a villain with a smiling cheek; A goodly outside with a hellish heart. Oh, what a goodly outside falsehood hath!

Hitherto Captain Lamb had been considered as a solemn and dignified statesman. Hereafter, no less volens, he must be classed with the humorists of the house. His case illustrates the old and homely saying, "Appearances are often deceptive."

A Gem of Oratory. For a long time Senator George Graham Vest of Missouri has indulged and cultivated the fad of collating "gems of oratory." I commend to his careful and prayerful consideration the debate on the Groat bill. He will find it a rich mine of "oratorical gems." Nobody would have concluded from a priori reasoning that bigotry could possibly be lugged in, but Mr. Foster of Illinois is the statesman who performed that apparently impossible caper, and he did it in this wise:

"Mr. Speaker, the pending bill, popularly known as the Groat bill, receives its strength and acquires its unworthiness from two sources—bigotry and greed. These two elements, from time to time, as far back as the memory of man runneth, have consistently opposed every effort to improve the condition of mankind by destroying the power of tyrants, frustrating the avarice of classes or the prejudices of precedent.

"In this case the bigotry referred to is the bigotry of custom, which is as blind, ignorant and inconsiderate as that of race, nationality, class or creed. It opposes the adoption of a healthful food, which may be enjoyed by poor and rich alike, because that food was unknown to past generations. In like manner it opposed steam and electricity. It did not believe a steamer could cross the ocean because one never had crossed it. It tried on the plains to lasso the railroad engine. The lasso was in the hands of the savage red man. But in that effort he was as reasonable, as enlightened and as effective as the better lettered but equally narrow minded pale faced brethren of his class, who declared the steamship an impossibility and the railroad a dangerous, trespassing, man devouring, cattle destroying gormand and juggernaut."

Major Lacey's Campaign Story. Among jubilant members on hand on the opening day of the short session of the Fifty-sixth congress was Major Lacey of Iowa, who was in most cheerful mood.

He was regaling a coterie of friends with reminiscences, enlarging upon the fact that it was extremely difficult to arouse any interest in his audiences. He said: "I tried first and last to argue in a philosophic and logical manner all of the important questions involved in the election, but after doing my very best on several occasions to interest my audiences I painfully realized that my efforts were not a bowling success. So at last, in a community composed largely of Irish, who are generally enthusiastic auditors, I laid myself out to stir them up. So instead of seriously arguing imperialism, finance, prosperity and other great questions more or less ponderous I turned myself loose to deliver a regular rabble rouser. They applauded somewhat, but did not make the welkin ring with their shouts, as in 1896. When I went out on the street, I saw a crowd of men gesticulating and heard them talking excitedly, as in the good old days. I was greatly pleased and thought, 'Well, I have struck it right at last; but as I was not close enough to understand what they were saying I sided up nearer, so as to ascertain what portions of my speech had set them to arguing and shaking their fists at each other. When I came within earshot of them, to my disappointment I found that they were not discussing me or my speech at all, but were vociferously debating a bet of a dollar two men had made upon the weight of a certain hog distinguished in that particular community for his vast size. I was considerably chaffed and departed, revolving in my mind new plans for arousing the multitude to the old time pitch of enthusiasm; but, try as I would, I never succeeded. It was a dull campaign—most assuredly the dullest I ever saw.' And all said 'Amen' to the major's statement."

WHERE IS THE BOY WHO JUMPED OFF THE SEESAW?

AMUSEMENTS.

"Up York State" has won its spurs in fact has won more than spurs or whole equestrian accouterments, for it has captured several cities, all in fact that have been lucky enough to come under the seductive charm of its interesting and entertaining story. The tale of an unselfish heart ready to forego all its hopes and prospects that a loved one may be happy, that is all, quite ordinary isn't it? Just another case of disappointed affections? Well, not quite. There is precious little of the emotional in this play, and no heaviness of sentiment at all. Darius Green don't get his girl any easier than he gets his invention—they both come round at last, but it takes four smashing good acts of fine character sketching and rich comedy spiced with dramatic situations of a high order to bring about the desired result. In other words, here is a fine story, sensibly told that represents four as vivid and truthful acts as the stage has seen in many seasons. Darius Green loves his ward Evelyn Blair. Under the mistaken opinion that he loves another and that she has by demands upon his purse for money to save her brother's eyesight, prevented his marriage to that other, she marries another man and finds too late her mistake. The husband proves unworthy and she discovers she has lent herself to a scheme to defraud Darius, her protector. Out of this complication four acts have been made that brim with rich sentiment and comedy, sentiment as true and clear as daylight and comedy as quaint as the people who fill the drama. The scenes of the play are laid in the Adirondacks and afford many fine chances for realistic settings, fully taken advantage of Auditorium March 17th.

A well filled house greeted the production of the Prince of Tramps as presented by the Chicago Stock Company at the Auditorium Wednesday evening. The play was one that appealed to the audience and each climax was greeted with great outbursts of applause. The part of the Tramp was taken by Mr. Charles H. Rosskam, and it is needless to say that he was a success as the hero, always turning up at the right moment.

Every member of the company greatly assisted Mr. Rosskam in his excellent production and all received their share of the applause. Baby Rosskam appeared during the first act and was the center of attraction while on the stage. The vaudeville given between the acts was refined, above the ordinary and deserves mention, especially the troop of trained dogs under the direction of Prof. Purvis, in little plays and jokes. They are undoubtedly the best ever seen in this city and are worth the price of admission alone. The entire bill is of the highest order and we can say positively that the Chicago Stock Company is the best popular priced company that has ever been at the Auditorium.

The Belgian railway authorities are struggling with the locomotive whistle evil. The engines will carry whistles producing two tones, one much softer than the usual one. This will be used in railway stations or when the train is passing platforms crowded with passengers.

WHY STAY PALE. A pity to see pale girls stay pale and dull when it is so easy to get Scott's Emulsion.

One of the best things Scott's Emulsion does is to give rich blood to pale girls.

The result of regular doses of Scott's Emulsion is an increase not only in the red color of the blood and in the appetite but in the good looks and bright manners which are the real charm of perfect health.

"BUFFALO BILL" A LAND BOOMER

"Buffalo Bill" has temporarily abandoned the show business to engage in land booming and colonizing. The famous ranger and showman is a member of a syndicate that is preparing to increase Wyoming's population by the settlement of 5,000 Swedes in the valley of the Big Horn some distance east of Yellowstone Park and not far from the scene of the Custer massacre.

Colonel W. F. Cody said Sunday at the Auditorium Annex in Chicago that the company of promoters of which he is a member was working to have the new Sweden established before the end of the coming summer. Part of the persons who intend to join the colony, he said, now live in this country, but the rest, about half of the total, will be imported from King Oscar's domains within the next few months.

"The Swedes are the best farmers in the world," he said. "In the unfertile land of their ancestors they get marvelous results from tilling the soil and statistics show that they make barren land in this country bloom as do the people of no other race. In the valley of the Big Horn is land as fine as any in the world and we think the colony will be able to transform it into an earthly paradise so far as physical conditions go.

"The colony will be entirely Swedish and that may be the only language of communication among the members for a long time. The settlement will be self-governing, or as much so as state and federal laws will permit. There will be one town, but most of the energies of the people will be devoted to farming, and the town will be established merely for a postoffice and a central meeting place.

"The scheme is not socialistic or communistic, as the Swedes are not much given to ventures of that kind. They wish to try life in a democracy and under conditions of broader opportunities than the old country affords them. Wyoming needs the people and offers them the best chance to begin life anew. Other colonies of the same sort may be established later."

Colonel Cody, wearing his curly hair pinned up in a roll under his broad western hat, is always a picturesque figure. He denies that he has left the show business for good. He says he is now planning a production on new lines to be called "America" and to consist of various representations of American life from the time of Columbus to the triumph of civilization in the different parts of the country. This exhibition will first be given in New York and then taken to Europe.

EGGS DROP

Arrival of Six Millions in New York in a Day Causes Price There to Take a Tumble.

New York, March 13.—More than six million eggs were received in New York Tuesday, mostly from the west, and the price dropped to 17 cents. They sold two weeks ago at 27 cents. There is such a demand at present, however that the dealers say they do not expect any further decline. High prices for eggs were the result of the severe winter and the using of the surplus stock in cold storage. When the weather began to moderate the hen resumed work and large shipments of eggs were made from the far west and southwest.

THE LONGEST WORD.

"Rob," said Tom, "which is the most dangerous word to pronounce in the English language?"

"Don't know," said Rob, "unless it's a swearing word."

"Pooh!" said Tom, "it's stumbled, because you are sure to get a tumble between the first and the last letter."

"Ha! Ha!" said Rob. "Now, I've got one for you. I found it one day in the paper. Which is the longest word in the English language?"

"Incomprehensibility," said Tom. "No, sir, it's smiles, because there's a whole mile between the first and the last letter."

"Ho, Ho," said Tom, "that's nothing. I know a word that has over three miles between its beginning and ending."

"What's that?" asked Rob, faintly. "Beleagured," said Tom—London Tid Bits.

Chiefly By Advertising.

A London journalist tells the business men of that community that the surprising success of Americans in placing their products among the English people is chiefly due to the skill and courage with which the Americans advertise. "They prove," he says, "the tremendous influence of advertising in its effect on the success of an industrial nation." The article is a striking tribute to the importance of publicity to business.

Is Tolstoi Alive?

New York, March 13.—In spite of the fact that a prominent Russian here a few days ago received word of Tolstoi's death, the following cablegram came from St. Petersburg today: Count Leo. Tolstoi, the eminent Russian author, who has been ill for some weeks past, but who was recently reported out of danger, has had a sudden change for the worse.

WAIVED EXAMINATION.

Dayton, O., March 13.—Betty White, the colored woman who killed her husband, Isaac White, while he was in bed by saturating the bedding with gasoline and applying a lighted match waived examination when arraigned in the police court on a charge of murder.

INFIRMARY

LEVY FOR NEXT YEAR LOWEST IN COUNTY'S HISTORY.

Which Speaks Well for Infirmary Directors and Superintendent and Matron Larason.

On Monday of this week the Infirmary Directors met and made the annual levy for the support and maintenance of the County Infirmary.

The levy was $3,000 for next year, the lowest in the history of Licking county. This speaks well for the Infirmary directors and for Superintendent Larason and wife.

STUDENTS

Descend to Baby Play and "Bliff" Dean Johnson—One Shot Thrower Whipped.

Morgantown, W. Va., March 13.—They play "high jinks" in the law classes of the venerable Dean, Judge Okey Johnson, of West Virginia University, and so obstreperous have the students become that the police were called in yesterday. It is the West Virginia University of which Dr. D. B. Purinton, late of Granville, O., is President.

It is not uncommon for the mischievous students to provide themselves with shot, wads, marbles and other missiles, and when the back of the dean is turned they "bliff" him in the head. When he turns about, in humiliation and rage, the faces of his students are as serious as theological students. They never tell on each other.

A student "bluffed" Judge Johnson several times with shot during a recitation. When he asked the class who did so one fellow spoke up and laid the blame upon a guiltless student. The innocent party called the other a liar. Later they met in a private room by agreement and fought out their grievances. It was a bloody affair, and the shot thrower was thrashed, and severely. Prize fighting is not in the list of accomplishments taught at the university.

FREDONIA.

Protracted meeting commenced at the M. E. church last Sunday evening. The meetings will be conducted by Rev. Wm. Benzeng.

This is a busy time for our people in their sugar orchards. There has been a good run of sap for the last few days.

I noticed in your last issue of the Advocate correspondence from Highwater stating that the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church of this place gave a donation to G. W. Ellis, the statement is erroneous and void of truth. Mr. Ellis is going to move soon to Burg street and his neighbors, and friends out of respect for him and his estimable wife gave them a surprise which all heartily enjoyed. There was no donation about it.

Ernest Wright is moving to Utica this week.

Ira Chilcote is spending a few days with his parents.

THOMAS CASE

Mrs. Ada Blandy Thomas' Husband Now Files an Answer at Chicago. Trial Monday.

(Columbus Dispatch.)

The local attorneys for Mrs. Ada Blandy Thomas, who is being sued for divorce at Chicago were busy Tuesday putting on the finishing touches of the Columbus end of Mrs. Thomas defense.

The case comes up for trial next Monday at Chicago. Depositions have been taken in Columbus, Kansas City, and will be taken in New York Thursday to show that Mrs. Thomas did not desert her husband and that she was faithful to her matrimonial vows and led a virtuous life.

Several days ago Mrs. Thomas filed a cross bill charging her husband with visiting resorts in the company of women. Mr. Thomas comes back very promptly with an amended cross bill according to the following special dispatch from Chicago:

Harold Thomas has filed an answer to the amended cross bill of his wife, Ada Thomas. He denies the allegations made by his wife that he has frequented a hotel at Madison street and Fifth avenue, he also denies the assertions made by his wife concerning his relations with other women.

ERRING WIFE

HAS NOT RETURNED AS YET TO MANSFIELD.

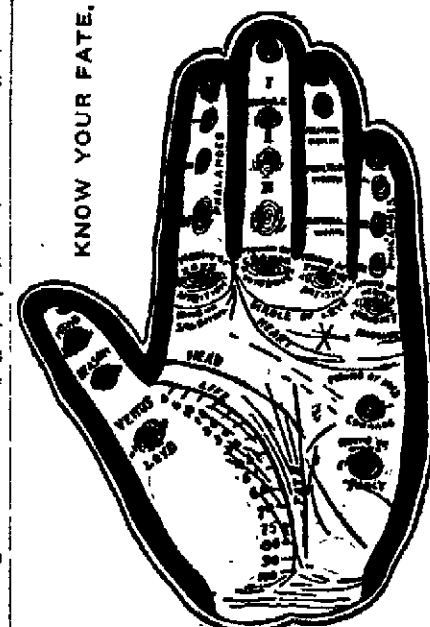

Hull Talks About Wife's Departure—Domestic Affairs Were Pleasant Before Indian Came.

Mansfield, O., March 13.—Samuel Hull has not received word from his wife who figured in the sensational affair with "Pretty Eagle," the Indian "doctor" who was in Newark the other day and was arrested at Washington C. H. and fined.

In regard to Eagle's statement that he picked up only wives who were dissatisfied and had trouble with their husbands Mr. Hull said that it was Pretty Eagle who caused all the trouble.

He stated that his domestic life had been going on smoothly enough until the day before his wife left to join the Indian. He said that she was looking for trouble and stirred some up. On this pretext he claims that she went away. Mr. Hull said that he informed her that if she left his home she need never return. He had no intimation that she was going to join Pretty Eagle.
